" An Year of "Child Rights" 2018-19 "

India with 1.34 billion people constitutes as the second most populous country in the world and children represent 39% of total population of the country. Rajasthan is home to 2.98 Crores children which is 43.6 percent of the total state population. Although children are only 39 percent of the population but they are 100 percent of our future, therefore we cannot afford to ignore the children.

Nobel Laureate Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore has written that "Every child comes with the message that God is not yet discouraged of man." We worry about what a child will become tomorrow, yet we forget that he is someone today. Children are one of the greatest assets any nation possesses. Their wellbeing and growth is an important indicator of its social and economic development.

All children have a right to care and protection; to develop and grow into a complete and full individual, regardless of their social and economic situation.

Nelson Mandela, former President of South Africa has said, "Safety and security don't just happen, they are the result of collective consensus and public investment. We owe our children, the most vulnerable citizens in our society, a life free of violence and fear."

Every child has a fundamental right to elementary education under Article 21A of the Constitution of India. The right to education is a directive principal of state policy under Article 45 and fundamental duty under Article 51A of Constitution of India, enforcement of Article 21A of the Indian Constitution, which provides for compulsory education, can be highlighted to ensure that children are not left without the benefits of education.

The childhood of a person is precious. On the child attaining the age of majority, anything may be given to it like the job, house, husband/wife; but what cannot be got back is its precious childhood. One of the most important tenets of Child Rights is ensuring their basic right to good health, nutrition, education and freedom from violence, abuse and exploitation.

Therefore this Authority has decided to celebrate year 201819 as Year of Child Rights to ensure better future for our children.
